SHANGHAI, Aug. 27.-Three divisions of China's army rushed tonight to a smoking, thundering battleground northwest of Shanghai, where Chinese fought desperately to stem a Japanese charge against the back door to this city. Bombs, shells and machine gun fire turned Lotien, 12 miles from Shanghai, into a smoking ash heap. Near the town, waves of Japanese infantrymen met a sheet of machine gun fire in a bayonet charge

The battle for Lotien was de scribed as the fiercest since the outbreak of hostilities in the Shanghai area two weeks ago.

The neighboring town of Kiating was in flames as the armies surged through it before the Japanese lines finally broke.

Today's battle carried destruction well away from the closer-in scenes of two weeks of Shanghai war. Hongkew and Yangtzepoo districts of the city were burnt-out craters of desolation. New and apparently more terrific eruptions spouted on a northwest line through Kiating and Nansiang to Liuho, on

The man said he was Howard Bowman, 32 years old, 4607A Easton avenue, a member of the International Association of Cleaners and Dye House Workers, Local No. 20. Police reported that he first told them he was paid $20 by union officers to break the window but later repudiated the statement. His wife works at the Pahl shop, which emloys non-union labor.

Pahl had closed the shop and was standing in a nearby doorway at 7 o'clock when his attention was 9:30 A. M. AND CLOSE AT 5:30 drawn to an old automobile which stopped in front of his place. The occupant, apparently unable to see Pahl, got out and threw a brick through a 7 by 6 foot plate glass window, valued at $125. Gov. Stark Fills Other Places on Newly Created Parole Organization.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 27. -James E. Matthews, highway maintenance engineer at Sikeston, was appointed by Gov. Stark today as director of the State Penal Board. He succeeds Stephen B, Hunter of Cape Girardeau.

Reappointment of Paul V. Renz, Platte County, as farm commis-sioner on the board, and the selection of Harvey S. Johnson of Brookfield and Leslie N. Bledsoe of Kirksville as members of the newly-created state probations and parole board also were announced. Under the new parole board law, which goes into effect Sept. 6, Lieutenant-Governor Frank G. Harris will be ex-officio chairman. Matthews, a Democrat, will serve for a term ending Aug. 3, 1941.

Renz, Republican member of the nal board first appointed by Gov.

Dismissed Employe Testifies That Company Security League Head Ousted 28 Workers.

ASSERTS BOSSES FAVORED RELATIVES

Government Attorney Tells Examiner He Will Require Three Weeks More to Present Case.

NEW CUMBERLAND, W. Va., Aug. 27.—A member of the C I O Steel Workers' Union testified yesterday at a abor Board hearing that the chief of the Weirton Steel Employes Security League drove him and 25 others from the company's plant at Weirton, W. Va.

Shirlie Cox, a former employe representative, said Chairman Claude Conway of the Security League led a group of several men who went through the plant ordering out workers who wore C I C

Cox said he complained to O. E. Burgham, superintendent of the tin mill, who told a subordinate: "I want this stopped right now. . . .
Those fellows have a right to belong to any union they want to."
The next day, Cox continued, a man named Morgan made him leave when he reported for work. Cox was the principal witness at the ninth day of the board's hearing on its complaint charging Weirton Steel with intimidating its employes. John W. Porter, board attorney, estimated the prosecution would require at least three more weeks for its case.

Rebuttal Time Indefinite Clyde A. Armstrong, chief company counsel, said he did not know how long he would require to sent rebuttal testimony in the hearing which he has charged permitted injection of politics and has pre-vented thorough cross examination of Labor Board witnesses. Armstrong produced memoran-dum of adjustments made in sixcases as a result of employe representatives' intercession for discharged workers. Cox replied that some workers had been favored because they were relatives of "the Attorney William T. Fahey, counsel for the employe representaminutes on two cases of workers. One, the attorney declared, was dismissed because of poor sight and the other for throwing water bags at other employes during working Trial Examiner E. G. Smith nterjected: "Will you tell me what the purpose of this examination The attorney said he sought to ploye representation plan. He then moved that all of Cox's testimony be stricken from the record, but withdrew his motion when Armstrong said: "I can't agree to Earlier, Armstrong was overruled by Smith when he demanded to see Cox's C I O membership card. The attorney countered:

"We have produced employe security cards and every other kind of a card the Labor Board has re-quested, but when we ask to see a C I O card, that's different."

Later Cox offered to show the card and said he didn't care who

BERKELEY TO VOTE TOMORROW ON NEW SCHOOL DISTRICT

New Fourth-Class City in County to Hold Election at 2 P. M.

Voters of recently incorporated Berkeley will determine at 2 p. m. tomorrow whether or not they will crate a new school district coextensive with the boundaries of the St. Louis County municipality. The election will be held in the old Kinloch School at Fifth street and Hancock avenue.

It is regarded as certain that a large proportion of the ballots will be in favor of the proposal since the incorporation of the village as a fourth-class city did not come until after the defeat last spring of a proposal to separate the white and the Negro school children of the Kinloch district.

Berkeley's corporate limits are virtually confined to the white area of the old school district. Because of its municipal classification and the fact that it embraces parts of both the Scudder and the Kinloch school districts, it may set up its own district under the State law. This would be governed by a town board with six members rather than by a three-member rural

There are already 20 candidates in the field campaigning for places on this board.

Lewis indorsed President Homer Martin of the U A W when he said "I'm for your officers because they have crowned themselves and your union with glory." He said they had brought the union up from a membership of 30,000 "to 400,000. The "progressive" faction of Martin won the first skirmish yes

We have a right to differences of opinion, but we must tell the world these differences will not divide us, will not split us into factions."

An issue in the factional strife is the effort of the "unity" group to strip the president's office of some of its power and distribute it among the vice-presidents. Dubinsky told the delegates he

Aluminum and oil formed the bases of the Mellon fortune, which was one of the greatest in the Unit-ed States, and, at the time of his death, included widespread interests. Pittsburgh estimates place his holdings and those of his two children at $500,000,000. At the invitation of President Roosevelt, Mellon had called at the White House several months to discuss his plans for the National Gallery of Art, the project closest to his heart. It was his hope that his great art collection would form merely a nucleus for a national collection which would rival those of Europe.

Mellon was Secretary of the Treasury under President Harding, President Coolidge and President Hoover. He was Ambassador to the Court of St. James from Feb. 5, 1932, to March 17, 1933. He was a president of the Mellon National Bank in Pittsburgh and was a digaged in the coal, coke and iron interest in the Aluminum Co. of "These policies are few in number and may be easily enumerated. One is the keeping of expenditures always within the revenues. Another is the payment of the public debt. A third is the levy of the lowest taxes consistent with the Government's needs; and still another is the support of the public credit so that the financial integrity of the Government shall be a rock amidst the fluctuations of internal and world finance."

The picture the public remembers of him is of a mild-looking, frail little man with a thin, delicate cigar in his mouth and a hesitant smile on his face.

He was as far removed as possible from the conventional and popular conception of the man of great wealth and affairs. # BOARD TO FIX PRICES ON COAL ABOUT OCT. 1 Asks Producers to Submit Minimum by Sept. 2-4600 Accept Code.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.-The Bituminous Coal Commission expects to establish minimum mine prices for soft coal by Oct. 1.

It has directed district producers' boards in the territory east of the Mississippi River (Alabama excepted) to propose minimum prices not later than Sept. 2. The proposals will be open for public inspection by Sept. 24, and a hearing will be held in Washington on Sept.

To expedite this work the commission has set the average cost of production at $2.22 a ton and $1.88. The price proposals may not go beow production cost. The act specifically provides "that no minimum price shall be proposed that permits dumping."

To date, 4605 producers have accepted the coal code. They are only about one-third of the bituminous producers but they account for 415 million of the 425 million tons produced last year.

The commission is holding a hearing in each bituminous-producing state to determine what part of the coal produced and sold within the state does not affect interstate commerce. Such hearing is scheduled at Springfield, Ill., Sept. 9.

UNION HEAD TO RENEW EFFORT TO ORGANIZE SCHOOL WORKERS

Meeting of Custodians and Matrons Is Called by Joseph P. Clark.

Joseph P. Clark, president of Central Trades & Labor Union and business representative of the International Brotherhood of Fire-men, Oilers and Helpers, will renew tonight his effort to form a union of public school custodians and matrons. A meeting has been called for 8 o'clock at Carpenters'

Hall, 1411 North Grand boulevard.

It will be left for the proposed organization to decide whether to affiliate with Clark's union, which, he has said, has had jurisdiction over such school workers for 39 years, or to request an independent charter from the American Federa-tioon of Labor. The first meeting was held July 2, but a second, July 9, was canceled when only 15 persons appeared.

In the meantime another union of the custodians and matrons was formed, aided by organization advice from Thomas F. Quinn, a member of the Board of Education and former president of the Building Trades Council. Clark has harged that the latter group was "company union." No steps have been taken, as far as is known, to btain a charter for it.

WIDER USE OF PROFITS IN ACCOUNTS AUTHORIZED

Excess Funds Under Federal Regulation May Be Employed in Unregulated Markets, the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 .- Federal officials who supervise specu-lative trading in farm commodithey said would facilitate trading for both commission houses and the public. Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, chief of the Commodity Exchange Administration, said customers may use "excess funds," or profits, ir accounts that come under Federal regulation, for trading in unregulated commodities, or securities.

Because the Federal act requires commission houses to keep cus-tomers' funds segregated, Duvel reported there had been many questions about use of these excess funds in these regulated accounts for "margining securities, or commodities, not covered by the Commodity Exchange Act." Duvel said "some commission firms have prepared very broad authorization forms" to permit this transfer of customers' funds, and asked that these be signed before trades were accepted. Customers may sign these if they desire. Duvel said, "to avoid calls on open trades

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT SURVEY

in securities, or in unregulated commodity futures."

Level Unchanged from June to July; Distribution the Same. By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27. - The Federal Reserve Board's indicator of industrial production and commodity distribution remained at the June level during July.

The seasonally adjusted index of industrial production, based on 1923-25 as 100, stood at 114 for the two months-four points under the level for March, April and May. Steel mill activity, curtailed by strikes in June, increased substantially in July, and lumber production also turned upward. Plate glass output and automobile assemblies declined. Department store sales were 94 per cent of the 1923-25 average during July, slightly above June and 3 points over July a year

GOODYEAR WORKER TELLS OF FIRING

Hell Out."

By the Associated Press. GADSDEN, Ala., April 27.-W. L. Walker, a pipe fitter, testified today the master mechanic of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., plant here told him to "get the hell out" as he stopped to talk with a union committeeman after his discharge. The witness, first today in a National Labor Relations Board hear-ing on labor practices of the Goodyear Co. of Alabama, said he joined the United Rubber Workers of America on May 7 and was let out June 1. The company contends he was discharged because of "defective workmanship."

Attorneys for the union and the company suggested to Trial Ex-aminer Walter Wilbur that the hearing, now drawing to the close of its second week, be recessed from Sept. 10 to Oct. 4. Wilbur said he would take up the request with the Under cross-examination by O. R.

Wood, company counsel, Walker said he was wearing a ribbon of the Etowah Rubber Workers Association, local group which the URW A charges is company dominated, at the time he was let out. "What was the reason you had it on?" asked Yelverton Cowherd, union attorney and C I O regional director. "Well, to hold the job," Walker replied.

Walker said he had been asked to join the Etowah Association by a sistant foreman. He said he beonged to the URWA at the time he joined the Etowah, never gave up his U R W A membership and never attended an Etowah Assoresterday B. E. Cleveland testified he was beaten by a group of men in the Goodyear parking lot last June 6, shortly after he rejoined the union

Cleveland said that prior to the beating, a fellow worker, Shep Shew, "told me I'd better look out, they was going to beat me up like they did the other fellows in the plant." On questioning by Good-year counsel, however, the witness said he was not a member of the union when he received the warn-

CHINESE IN ST. LOUIS RAISE $10,000 TO HELP FIGHT JAPAN

Their Bit for Defense and Red Cross Purposes. More than $10,000, contributed by St. Louis Chinese merchants and their employes, will be sent early next week to the National Government at Nanking and to the Chinese Red Cross, Joe Lin, restaurant proprietor, told a Post-Dispatch reporter today.

Lin said that about 300 Chinese

Lin said most donors here had asked that their contributions be forwarded directly to the Government for defense against the Japanese. Officers of the St. Louis Chinese Merchants' Association, of which Lin is a director and former president, are receiving the contributions.

The restaurant proprietor, a native of Kwangtung Province, in Southeast China, declared that Japan never would conquer China. His homeland, he said, was a nation of 400 million persons, and he thought Japan would have to slaughter 400 million persons to subjugate the country. To Lin, Japan is a nation of "fishermen, not

Havana Hears Wife of Son of Former King Alfonso Will Seek Divorce. HAVANA, Aug. 27.—The Count of Covadonga, eldest son of former King Alfonso of Spain, has separated from his bride of 53 days and Havana heard today rumors of an mpending divorce.

The slim-faced scion of the Bourbons, apparently depressed in spirit, met inquiries with the suggestion: "Let them do the talking." He meant his commoner-wife, the former Marta Rocafort, and her parents. But all the Count's father-inlaw, Dr. Blas Rocafort, a dentist, would say was: "Everything will be arranged amicably."
The Count moved Wednesday night to a hotel—alone.

"My moving was logical and natural," he explained. "Any information about what has happened or is happening must come from the house on Linea street." His bride lives on Linea street in fashionable suburban Vedado. It was reported that the Countess had visited the lawyer Covadonga's first wife. Edelmira Sampedro, em ployed when the Count sued last summer for an annulment. The Count's first marriage was in Switzerland in June, 1933. The rumor was that the Count's second wife urged the quickest possible action toward a complete diROADSIDE SHOOTING

Campbell's story to police, told after his sister had been taken to the hospital, was in agreement with the statements of other members of the group which had gone swim-ming at Sandy Beach near the island. He said Groceman asked them to help him free his automobile which was stuck in the sand on top of a narrow dike used as a padway, and which blocked Campbell's automobile. Groceman became abusive, Campbell said, and threatened them with a shotgun after they had exchanged words about his blocking the road. As the farmhand turned toward Robinson, Campbell rushed him, disarmed him and beat him with the gun. They drove around Groce-man's machine but had gone not more than 100 feet, Campbell said, when his sister was shot. They continued to the hospital. Groceman, arrested after inquiry in the neighborhood by deputies, established that he was owner of the stalled automobile, said he had fired no shots. A DVANCE sales for major fights of late have been disappointing to the head man of the boxing world, Mike Jacobs. Perhaps J. Inquiring Public is not in the gold brick buying mar-ket to his former extent.

Despite high-powered salesmanship. J. I. P. to the end refused to bite on the Braddock-Louis prices. Result, about half the predicted gate. Jacobs later broke up a Farr-Schmeling match in title and the International Boxing Federation's world title. He then brought Farr to America to fight Louis. Once more he failed to sell the idea. Farr was even less acceptable to fans as an opponent of Louis than Braddock. The public figured that like Jim, he had no chance; that both had been used to block off from Louis the only man with genuine right to challenge-Max Schmeling, the guy who flattened Jacobs' fistic ace.

Fans Refuse to Fall.

Y OU can't fool a lot of people all the time and some 50,000,000 Americans seem to have the idea that pushing Schmeling into the background three times in favor of men of minor importance, could mean nothing more than a desire to protect Louis. When recently Jacobs put off once more the Schmeling-Louis fight until next June, what else could they believe? In the meantime Jacobs, champing his upper and lower plates, is probably wondering what ails the dinged public, any-It may be that 50,000,000 Americans figure they can't be wrong and are staying away from the Farr bout to prove it. Whether Louis knocks out Farr or merely beats him, the public still will believe Schmeling has a better right, if not a better claim to the title than Louis.

Heavy shipments will begin arriving Sunday from Thistle Downs, Dade Park Lincoln Fields, Saratoga and Narragansett, and will continue throughout the week before the meeting. The meetings at Thistle Downs and Dade Park close Saturday. From Thistle Downs, two of the best stables coming are those of B. Hernandez and, J. Chesney, while from Dade Park, the outstanding string shipping is that of Mrs. R. J. Murphy. In the Murphy stable is Little Nymph, winner of three straight handicaps. The stable holds the contract of the sensational apprentice rider, Willie Lee Johnson.

The death Wednesday of District Fire Chief Louis P. Joerder, 69 years old, disclosed he had been narried secretly Aug. 7 to Mrs. Amy McCarthy, 44, a widow, 6074

Chief Joerder, a city fireman for 42 years, who resided at 4023 Page boulevard, died of encephalitis, (sleeping sickness), at Central Hospital after an illness of four days. He had four sons and two daughers by a former marriage.

Mrs. Joerder said she and Joerder had decided not to tell his children, who and objected to the marriage, until they could establish a home together after their return from a fishing trip, on which they had planned to depart Saturday. Yesterday her attorney applied to the Fire Department for a widow's pension of $30 a month, exhibiting vidence that she had been married to Joerder by Justice of the Peace John Fahey at Ferguson.

Her acquaintance with Toerder egan when she was 14 years old and resided across the street from an engine house at Sixteenth and Mullanphy streets, where he was Captain, Mrs. Joerder told a, Post-Dispatch reporter. Frequently she went on errands for him and other firemen, she said, and asionally he had meals at her home.

Following the death of his first her husband's death, they renewed their acquaintance, often spending his days off together, the co tinued. His children knew they were close friends, she said. About a week ago, she said, she informed Fire Chief O'Boyle of the mar-

James P. Miller, Labor Board election supervisor, pointed out that the Goodrich vote was an "arranged" election, with the company questioning the jurisdiction of the Board. In this respect it differed from the election held earlier in the week at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. where the company consented to abide by the results. The Goodyear vote was 8164 in favor of the C I O union and 3103 opposed. Miller said, "the Goodrich company has been very fair and co-operated fully in making arrange-ments for the election."

An Example for American Conservatives

British Conservative party offers pattern for corresponding element in America to follow, says political scientist, admitting this would entail substantial concessions to demand for economic equality; all modern states are using taxing power to redistribute wealth, he adds; warns no "back to anything" movement can succeed.

D. W. Brogan, Lecturer on Government, Corpus Christi College, Oxford University, in the Virginia Quarterly Review.

T a moment when American political A conservatism has suffered a disastrous defeat, a defeat from which its recovery, though inevitable, is not likely to be easy tism, in a task of at least equal difficulty, deserves some attention, and that attention those defeated last November

For in a modern democratic state, the character of the conservative political organization is a matter of acute concern to their liberal or even Socialist rivals. If you doubt this, ask any German or Italian politi-

It is desirable for those who do not wish America to go Fascist to consider how American conservatives can be preserved from the temptation to throw themselves nto the arms of a Hitler, a Mussolini or a Franco. The British remedy is comparatively cheap and safe; if not so effervescent as the Fascist remedies, it is far less likely to produce either a hangover or death.

It should be remembered that the easy dominance of the English political scene by the Conservatives is a post-war phenomenon; that before the war, the party which defend. ed the old order had made almost every error that any party could make and, in addition, had made mistakes of a kind that no conservative party should ever make.

The right and the wrong way to stir the patriotic spirit of the people is illustrated by the different handling of the Bolshevik nenace in Britain and America. From time to time, the Red menace is used, as in 1924, at the time when the British engineers were on trial. There are moments when the Britare times when it is afraid of Germany there are times when it is not afraid at all. The prudent British politician knows this.

But prominent Americans tend to forget this. Was there anything done by Mr. Roosevelt that was not denounced as Bolshevism? Was there any change that was not denounced as un-American? One obvious result of these blanket denunciations was to fill the American people with gratified surprise when they woke up in morning with their wives un-nationalized and their goods more or less intact. The American conservatives may spend the next four years, regretting not that they called "Wolf! Wolf!" when there was no wolf, but that, having been so busy describ ing a roving domestic cat as a raging Bengal iger, they are now debarred from the humbler, but still useful, task of pointing out that nice pussy doesn't seem to be completely house-broken.

What the war was to English, the depression was to American, conservatism. Certain attitudes possible before 1929 are politically impossible today. Certain emotional assets of the conservatives in both American parties are either dead or terribly weakened. For the American conservatives, like the conservatives of all countries, must adjust themselves to the truth that in all moder states the taxing power will be used to redistribute wealth. The question is only one of degree. They must realize, too, that the

MUNICIPAL OPERA ELOPEMENT BRIDE AGAIN PAYS ITS WAY

Surplus Sufficient for Winter Expenses and Bonus to Each Chorus Member.

The Municipal Theater Association is completing its nineteenth season with a balance on the right side of its financial ledger. A preliminary audit shows that a surplus is to be expected when the lights go out on "Wild Violets" Sunday night after the final performance of the summer in the Forest Park theater. Although an opera season now costs about $500,000, the guarantors agree each year to meet any deficit have not been called on since 1930. On the few occasion when guarantors have been asked to make up losses, their advances have been repaid through profits of subsequent seasons.

Profits of the theater association have been used to build, equip, and maintain the theater in Forest Park which provides seats for 10,000

Assured of a surplus this season, the association voted a bonus to the 91 St. Louis members of the chorus. Checks for $40 each were presented yesterday to 84 members who appeared in all 12 of the summer's productions, and seven singers and dancers who joined the chorus at varying times got checks in proportion. The bonuses were distributed at the annual party for the cast, chorus and production staff, held at Fredmar Farms.

Since 1932, members of the chorus have been paid $30 a week. Previously they got $35. When the pay was reduced, the management assumed a portion of the dues paid by each member of the Equity Association. Former Mayor Henry W. Kiel, president of the theater association, said the surplus this season, barring cancellation of perform-ances which might be caused by rain, would be about enough to pay the bonus to the chorus and meet administrative expenses during the winter months. Operating expenses increased con siderably this year, Kiel said, be-cause of higher salaries paid to musicians, ticket takers and ushers and because of the increased cost of lumber, paint and other materials used in creating the settings for the shows.

As Wall Street Views It From the Wall Street Journal. public offering by Missouri of bonds origold privately to a Kansas City firm were first revealed last week, investment bankers said it would be impossible to bid nder the provisions specified. Their conunder the provisions specified. Their con-tention was that such a bid would be noth-ing more than a purchase of litigation in that the sale of Baum, Bernheimer & Co-was considered a legal and binding contract. The bid by the (St. Louis) bankers would have qualified as a representative bid in almost any regular offering. Its specifications are those which are generally included in usual bond proposals. The condition that the previous sale be canceled was, of course, ssary to prevent any litigation. It might compared to the usual conditi bids that the proposal is subject to the un-qualified opinion of a specified representa-tive firm of municipal bond attorneys. Delivery date was not specified in the call for bids, although it is generally included. Dispute over the private sale arose be cause on several previous occasions simila ontracts have been concluded privately by State officials without any previous mation to the bond fraternity in general. In addition, State officials had prior to the July contract announced their intention of ely offering the next" bond issue. When the bonds were sold privately at premium of $100,000, investment banker ntended that the State could have obtained an additional $50,000 through comtitive bidding. The Mercantile Co

A NYONE who understands anything of politics in Missouri knows that Lieutenint-Governor Harris, Secretary of State Dwight Brown, Attorney-General McKittrick and State Auditor Forrest Smith have their caps set to run for Governor, if the thing seems ripe. In the meantime, they seem be jockeying each other around, trying to make the other fellow look black before the public in order to have an advantage. After Harris, Smith, McKittrick and Wint were caught in their private bond sale of tate bonds to a Kansas City bond firm while the Governor was on his vacation they were retarded some in their ambitions What we would like to call to the atten tion of these boys who constitute the four main elective offices of the State is that they are not only doing themselves injury that they are creating the impres

A Department of Commerce com mittee on research, which witnessed the experiments, said it would recommend that the equipment be placed on all transport liners as soon as possible. Short wave directional radio beams are responsible for the equipment, which several air lines have pooled resources to develop. "We consider this the greatest step forward for flying safety in many years," said an air lines spokesman. Pilot R. Freng, chief of flying for United Airlines, said the two test planes had made 50 blind landings yesterday. The apparatus, which registers visually on the pilot's instrument board, enables the plane to follow a radio beam in a gradual descent to airport runways from distances as far as five or 10 miles.

Brother, when we announce bargains, we really sell cars! Others have tried to equal our values, but it just doesn't work out. It's our lerge volume at business that enables us to maintain our reputation of quality in every car we sell. You may find our prices matched occasionally, but our quality NEVER. Look over this list... and COMPARE — WE INVITE COMPETITION.

FOREIGN MARKETS AT A GLANCE

The state of the s By the Associated Press.
Action of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York after Thursday's close in cutting its rediscount rate from 1½ to 1 per cent was in line with expectations and seemingly failed to impart any great zest to either stocks or Government bonds. Death of financier Andrew W. Mellon had little effect marketwise insamuch as Wall street believed the huge Mellon estate has been in order for some time and no severe pressure will accompany payment of Federal taxes.

With the railway wage controversy going into mediation, most observers were of the opinion a strike is now improbable and that at comporable between the brother-hoods and roads will be reached soon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27 .- U. S. Government bonds found lower levels in a de-clining bond market today. A few Treas-ment bonds found lower levels in a dedictining bond market today. A few Treasuary issues managed to score gains running up to 5-32ds of a point. Volume lagged noticeably.

Domestic corporate obligations slipped gently lower partly in sympathy with the sag in Federals and partly under the infiluence of the Far Eastern situation.

Rails gave ground from fractions to over a point. Great Northern 4s fell 1% to end at 120½ while M.-K.T. 5s lost a point to 69. Southern Pacific 4½s closed at 83, off 1. New Haven 6s went counter to the trend and spurted 2¼ to 55%.
Industrials and utilities found generally lower levels. Bethlehem Steel 4¼s and 3¾s lost fractions and International Telephone 5s, Texas Corporation 3½s and Penn General 4½s were lower.

Foreign issues were marked by some strength in Japanese issues. The 6½s gained 2½ to 82½ and the 5½s gained af fraction. Other sections of the list moved narrowly.

COMPANY SUES LABOR BOARD OVER 'STRIP-TEASE' CHARGES

Clover Fork Coal Co. Seeks $50,000 for False Accusation at Wagner Act Hearing.

By the Associate HARLAN, Ky., Aug. 27. - The 'strip-tease" charges made during National Labor Relations Board hearing on alleged Wagner Act violations by the Clover Fork Coal Co. were made the basis of a $50,000 suit filed in Harlan Circuit Court yesterday by the company against the Labor Board.

The board had charged the com-pany used "lewd and immoral women" to dance as a counter-at-traction to United Mine Workers' meetings.

Later, during the two-weeks hearing, Labor Board Attorney Leonard Shore and Irving McCann, who conducted the hearings for the board, both apologized saying the Clover Fark was not the company volved. The board has the case nder advisement ncw.

Boy Kills Girl in 'Lover's Tiff.' RICHMOND, Ind., Aug. 27. -Police said Holly Sagester, 16 years old, shot and killed Martha Markey, 14, school girl, yesterday after a "lover's quarrel." Sagester said he shot the girl because he believed she had "dated" another boy for last night. Sagester said the jamming of the rifle prevented him from ending his own life.

It was the picture of a curly-headed child lying on the beach, close to the water, with his eyes closed and, standing near him, was a big St. Bernard dog; and the title of the picture was, "Saved." Uncle Hod studied it a long time, and when I asked him what he thought of it, he said: "No wonder the kid fainted after pullin' that big dog out of the water!" (Copyright, 1937.)

Dear Mrs. Carr:

The thinking of taking a plane from St. Louis to Chicago the first part of next month. Would you tell me if I would be required around black, or that it should be brown if brown happens to be a by tell me it I would be required to pay for my baby who is not quite three years old, if so, how much? How much baggage am I allowed?

Also what kind of clothing should and accessories. When a woman are that time? Should I tip I take for that time? Should I tip starts her autumn shopping she the hostess and if so, how much? usually buys a complete costume, so her footwear, her bag, her gloves and other accessories should be purchased with an eye to double or triple duty.

Since black is being accepted so generally as the basis of a fall and winter wardrobe, the chances are that most women will want a black frock to start the season. Not required to tip the hostess. As only post-debutantes and matrons for your questions about clothes, are preferring black to colors but school girls have taken a fancy to it, also. The new vogue of color accents contributes a youthful charm that makes black more flattering.

Brown is attaining new popularity this year owing to the various new tones which are appearing, so it may be that the woman who has worn black for several autumns will find herself choosing brown instead. But once she chooses it, she might as well make up her mind to go into brown with thoroughness and forget that her first love was black. Cinnamon and other spice shades are featured extensive ly among the interesting browns of the new season

All of the various shades green, wine red, beige, gray and blue which add zest to the color charts for autumn are suitable for the first fall dress, providing the choice does not conflict with the basic scheme of a wardrobe. Some of them ensemble best with brown, some with black while others are more elegant if accessories are chosen to match.

N EXT to the choice of color, there are other momentous questions to be decided in starting out the season. Silhouettes are so varied that a woman must study her figure (and perhaps visit her corsetiere) before she accepts a low waistline or a high one and before she makes up her mind to go mincing along in a very short, tight Fortunately there is great variety in the mode so every woman has an opportunity to choose a costume which is becoming. Three dresses selected from St. Louis stores have been sketched to bring out definite points of the mode and to point the way to autumn smartness. One is black, another a new tone of brown and the third a dark green.

The figure illustrated at the left is wearing a light weight feathery wool frock of cinnamon brown shade. The dog will have become acquainted with the baby and he with it, and there will not be any trouble save in rare instances. It is when the baby comes first that the trouble

Sometimes the new dog is a big one, a shepherd. He is brought into the presence of the little one who is sitting on the floor in peaceful occupation with familiar things. He looks with startled eyes at the big creature. Perhaps he begins to cry in fear. Perhaps he reaches for the dog's face and clutches at his muzzle, pokes a wavering finger toward his eye. Maybe the big dog in sheer friendliness knocks the infant over. The first experiences a little one has with a dog are going to stay with him for a long time, so the introduction of a new dog to an infant is a risky matter.

Tiny dogs suffer too much at the hands of little children. They are squeezed, sat on, packed in bags and baskets, and in general made miserable. The effort to save the dog and teach the child about its care adds a mountain of care to the mother's already heavy burden. Instead of the animal being a pleasure he becomes

And there is the grave possibility of the child's acquiring a fear of dogs that will haunt him for years if not forever. Being knocked down by a great animal is not a pleasant experience for a little child. Neither is being scratched or bitten a good introduction to a pet. The dog that knocks the baby down is intending him no hurt, but the baby knows only that he was felled and helpless. The mishandled pet will defend himself in the only way he knows, and of course the baby is frightened.

There ought to be a dog where there are children. The best way there are children. The best way to go about having him is to get him in first. ### Child Problem When Inviting Dinner Guests

If Youngsters Are Not Wanted, Explain Situation to Parents.

By Emily Post

Dear Mrs. Post:

WE have friends whom we enjoy entertaining at dinner, but up to the present have side stepped the inclusion of the chiling all contacts socially through their desire to have the children with them, and they are blind to the reason. How shall we cope with the matter tactfully? We are confident that many others are placed in our predicament—the possible breaking of a delightful friendship ecause we haven't the courage to tell them frankly why the children are unwelcome,

Answer: Is it possible that your riends are unable to go without their children because they have no one at home to leave them with? If this is the case, then you can't very well expect them to accept your invitations. On the other hand, if the children have a nurse, or if there is someone else who will take care of them, you can certainy continue to invite them without the children. If you would like to give a dinner, you would naturally fill your table with your own friends, and then, asking these parents last, tell them the truththat there is no room for the children. Then, if they say they will squeeze them in, you will have to tell them frankly that you really can't let them come this time because children spoil a grown-up party. Unhappily, however, this may end your friendship even more decisively than if you failed to invite them at all, which brings us back where we started. Dear Mrs. Post: Do you suppose it would do any good for you to say something again about friends bringing dogs with them to visit? We have friends whom we would enjoy a lot if they would only leave their dogs at home. A summer cot-tage is no place for dogs. If we take them in the car or boat, they are over everyone, and if they are better without your friends. (Copyright, 1937.)

SYNOPSIS:
MAIDA and STANLEY CONNELL MAIDA and STANLEY CONNELL leave their university upon the sudden death of their father. MRS. CONNELL and STANLEY decide to squander the meager family fortune to attract a rich wife for him. MAIDA, who looks with disfavor on their plan, accepts the advice of a childhood friend, JOHNNIE CASEY, and enters the Cramburg General Hospital as a probationer. There she incurs the emmity of another nurse, RETTA COOK. MAIDA'S first night duty is in charge of a ward and JOHNNIE CASEY and "COOKIE" play a practical joke on her She faints and MISS BURNS: or a ward and Johnwhite CASE! and "COOKIE" play a practical joke on her. thority on the subject. Many young girls haven't much use for fol-de-rol and fuss and feathers except during those pale mauve moments when they imagine themselves in a plushy, movie-purple background with Robert Tayor casting longing glances at them. What they really find most workable is a place to study and play in, a world of their own, that can "take it." A good studio couch often pleases them far more, as it did Gwen, than a French Provincial

G WEN had her walls painted a lovely, dusty green and placed the studio bed in a niche formed by a clever carpenter who built shelves on one side with a desk arrangement in it and a good-sized closet on the other. Her mother contributed a full length mirror to the cause of straight stocking seams and even hems. The bed was covered with a dark blue-green covering, with seams piped with canary yellow. A comfortable lounge chair, begged from the living room, was covered with a green and dusty yellow chintz. Green-blue draperies were made of studio couch and the wooden valan old figured rug from the hall,

A dressing table, severe and modern, was Gwen's only concession to milady's wiles and ways. An old BURIAL PERMITS.

The bombardment yesterday followed Government forces' refusal to heed the customary insurgent ultimatum: "Surrender or take the onsequences.'

Gijon, in Oviedo province, is about 100 miles west of Santander, which fell Wednesday to an insurgent offensive, and is the principal city of the small slice of Bisayan tarritory, still held by Government. territory still held by Government forces.
The British freighter Stanbridge was damaged badly in the bombard-yards, 2700 Br ment. The ship remained in port while the crew tried to patch a hole along the waterline to enable it to go to France.

Three other British freighters, the Stanwood, African Trader and Hilde Moler, also damaged by bombs at Gijon, are on the way to La Palice, France, under escort of two Britsh destroyers. The Hilde Moler is being pumped to keep afloat until it can be drydocked at the French port.
